

Set of ethical norms for the University during DLT

1. Online class registration for students and teachers is performed with the official logins with the indication of corporate mail only
2. Appearance of the teacher and students must comply with the corporate dress-code.
3. Photos on avatars must help recognizing student's identity; it is prohibited to use images breaching the regulations of the RoK legislation
4. Student's homework must be sent only to corporate email of the teacher (use of personal email addresses is unacceptable)
5. Communication between students and teachers (letters, texts, addressing with questions, calls, videocalls) is allowed only during work hours from 08:00 till 19:00.
6. Students' attendance is accounted based on the video feed of the lesson, from each student's account.
7. Recording of the lesson and further distribution of it in the Internet by a student is possible only with the preliminary request for consent by the teacher
8. During tests a student must not leave the area of visibility of his web-camera.
9. Teachers and students must provide necessary conditions for their participation in the examination (light, low level of noise, absence of interferences)
10. Mandatory recording of oral examinations is performed at all times; number of members of the examination committee must be odd, not less than three members.
11. A student is prohibited to involve third person's assistance and/ or provide access to his/her computer to third parties during examinations
12. In case of interruption of the Internet connection more than once for more than 10 minutes, a student may be offered the right to retake the final exam according to the newly approved schedule during the examination session.
13. Each member of the committee sends his/her individual marks with their comments without preliminary discussion with the committee to the technical secretary for drawing up an average on each student/ group, with the aim of preventive measures on subjective marking.
14. Marks on all types of control tests are given individually. It is not allowed to show the journal with marks to all the students

15. All written types of papers must be checked with an antiplagiarism checking system.